The Magic of Textures

Little hands had fun
that day,
Feeling textures in their own way.
Soft or rough, each touch did say!

Our little learners stepped into the magical world of textures through the Texture Exploration Activity. With curious eyes and eager hands, children touched and felt different objects—smooth, rough, soft, hard, bumpy, and more!

This hands-on activity not only sparked their curiosity but also helped them build sensory awareness, observation skills, and vocabulary. Each tiny hand discovered a new feeling, turning learning into an adventure full of wonder and smiles. Truly, it was a day of “learning by feeling” where every touch brought a new discovery!
