

"Measuring the world, one unit at a time!"

Learners explored measurement by identifying objects as longer/shorter and taller/shorter. They compared lengths using direct comparison and measured items with non-standard units like paper clips, crayons, and erasers. They also understood that different-sized units give different measurement results.

"Measuring the world, one unit at a time!"