

“Speech Switch : Direct to Indirect Made Easy”

The learners of Grade 7 were divided into two nations, each facing certain issues and concerns. To address these differences, a mediator was appointed to listen carefully and convey the concerns of one nation to the other. Every learner was given a chance to take on the role of the mediator.

Through this engaging activity, the learners practiced speaking in indirect speech while attempting to resolve conflicts peacefully. The exercise not only strengthened their understanding of reported speech but also encouraged communication, cooperation, and problem-solving skills.
